The art unit designated for this application has changed. Applicant(s) are hereby informed that future correspondence should be directed to Art Unit 1631.

Restriction/Election Requirement

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121:

- I. Claims 1-12, drawn to a computational method of generating a set of amino acid sequences representative of at least one polypeptide of interest, classified in class 702, subclass 19.
- II. Claims 13-18, drawn to a system for generating a database of amino acid sequences comprising steps which are not the same as the steps of the method in Group I, classified in class 700, subclass 90.
- III. Claims 19-30, drawn to a kit for quantifying at least one polypeptide of interest comprising a plurality of peptide, classified in class 530, subclass 300 or 350.
- IV. Claims 31-42, drawn to a kit for quantifying at least one polypeptide of interest comprising a plurality of antibodies, classified in class 530, subclass 387.1.
- V. Claims 43-50, and 52-55, drawn to a method of method of quantifying at least a polypeptide of interest in a biological samples, classified in class 702, subclass 19.
- VI. Claims 56-63, drawn to a method of generating at least one antibody specific to an antibody of interest, classified in class 702, subclass 19.

The inventions of Groups I-VI are unrelated to one another. The various methods of Groups I, and V-VI as claimed are distinct, each from one another, both physically and functionally, require different process steps, reagents and parameters, and produce different products and/or results. Group I generates a set of amino acid sequences representative of at least one polypeptide of interest; group V quantifies at least a polypeptide of interest in a biological samples; whereas group VI generates at least one antibody specific to an antibody of interest.

The various products of Groups II-IV are distinct one from the another and are unrelated. Group II is drawn to a computer system, group III is drawn to a kit comprising a plurality of peptides, and group IV is drawn to a kit comprising a plurality of antibodies.

Consequently, these inventions have acquired a separate status in the art as a separate subject for inventive effect and are usually published separately. The search for each of the above inventions is not co-extensive particularly with regard to the literature search. Thus, examination of the invention groups together would impose an undue search burden to the Office.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR § 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. § 1.17(h).
